Interested in beekeeping, but unsure how to get started? Or, have you just started but have lots of questions? This intensive, informational workshop will help you successfully work with honeybees in North Carolina.

The fee includes:

- a copy of First Lessons in Beekeeping by Keith Delaplane
- informational handouts
- one year WCBA & NCSBA memberships
- hot dog lunch (Saturday)
- optional testing opportunities

Class: Saturday, March 16th, from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
Location: Raleigh Police Club, 3500 Leonard Rd.
Knightdale/Raleigh, NC

► Please note - GPS devices locate this address in Raleigh

Practical: Sunday, March 17th
1 p.m. - until all participants have tested

Location: Wake County Cooperative Center
4011 Carya Drive, Raleigh, NC 27610
(Test location subject to change)

Workshop cost: $50.00 / person, non refundable

Registration deadline: Monday, March 4, 2013

Workshop participation is limited to 60. Registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Workshop payment MUST be received at time of registration.

Certification will be offered through the North Carolina Master Beekeeper Program. A written certified beekeeping test will be administered before the end of class on Saturday. A practical test where participants demonstrate hands-on experience in the hives will be offered on Sunday.

Taking these tests is optional but highly encouraged.

Please visit the North Carolina State Beekeeping Association website www.ncbeekeepers.org and look under "Master Beekeeper" for more information on the certification program.

Payment must be made by check, and must be included with your registration form. Each workshop registrant must complete a form, but more than one registration form may accompany a payment check.

Please make your check payable to the Wake County Beekeepers Association
